SPECIAL SESSION IS SUGGESTED

Want Legislature to Meet and Pass on Tax Reform.

EX - SPEAKER'S VIEWS.

Would Defer All Matters Relating to Movement Until Next Year If Governor Issues Call.

Richmond, Sept. 17.—Democratic nominees for the House of Delegates who have been in Richmond in the past week or ten days lean largely to the view outlined by former Speaker R. E. Byrd that there should be a special session for the consideration of tax reform. If tentative plans now taking shape are fully matured, a Democratic caucus of the two houses of the General Assembly will determine in advance of the coming regular session to defer all matters relating to tax reform to a special session to be held in November, 1914, to appoint a joint committee from the Senate and House to sit in the interim and prepare bills for consideration of the members, and to ask Henry C. Stuart, who will then be Governor of Virginia, to call the special session for the purpose of considering tax reform only.

This will clear the decks of the regular session for the consideration of routine measures that must be passed for a more careful scrutiny of the appropriation bill, and for such local legislation as the counties and cities demand, and will leave the special session with but one thing to consider, when the attenton of members would not be diverted by those seeking legislation on a great variety of topics.

Since the Democratic primary of August 5 nearly all the Democratic nominees whose election is practically assured, have at one time or another been in Richmond and have been about the Capitol discussing these matters indicating their views and getting on to the ropes.

A much larger number of the visitors, including new and old members, have expressed themselves in favor of the special session. Taxes are levied on the basis of the first day of February. Even if a bill were adopted at the regular session this winter, it would not take effect in time to affect the assessments to be made in 1914. If passed at a special session in October or November of that year, however, it would be in full effect when the assessments are made for 1915, as soon as a law passed at the regular session would be in practical effect.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

M. Bouelle, director of the San Sebastian, Spain, casino, was shot dead Monday night before the eyes of 1,500 persons gathered around the gaming tables. About midnight, a man in evening dress standing in the doorway was seen to draw a revolver and fire at the ceiling. A panic ensued and the crowd stampeded amid the terrified screams of women. Bouelle rushed toward the man, who waited until he was within a few feet of him and then turned the revolver on the director, firing the remaining five shot. The assassin stood calmly by as his victim fell and permitted himself to be placed under arrest. He is believed to be a discharged employe, who attired himself in evening clothes so that he might enter the casino unnoticed with the guests to take revenge.

J. V. and W. H. Hogg, brothers, of Kline, S. C., 8 miles from Allendale, Ga., was shot and killed Monday night by J. W. Hogg, a cousin. J. W. Hogg, the alleged assailant, is now confined in the jail at Barnwell, S. C. The fight which ended in the double tragedy started in Ulner's store, near the depot, it is reported. A white man, Barnett, and W. H. Hogg began a quarrel, which terminated in a fist fight. J. V. Hogg came to his brother's aid. At a moment when J. V. and W. H. Hogg were standing close together, J. W. Hogg it is alleged, fired a load at the two brothers. J. V. Hogg expired instantly and the other wounded man lived only a few minutes.

General Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Los Angeles, Cal., Times, received an infernal machine by mail yesterday. It was the second time within three years that Gen Otis' life had been attempted by a bomb. Any chance of his being killed or injured by the bomb was foiled by the watchfulness of Gen Otis' Japanese servant, who became suspicious of the package and called his employer's attention to it. The first infernal machine sent to General Otis was found at his residence a few hours after his newspaper plant had been destroyed through the efforts of the McNamara conspirators.

"God knows how many Harlem couples believe themselves to be married who are not married at all in the eyes of the law," exclaimed a priest connected with St. Joseph's Church, New York, of which Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Aumuller, was a curate. "I hope there are not many, but we have discovered some. "Recently Father Schmidt has been performing marriages for which he had no licenses, and which he did not record on the church books. It is clear that these marriages are illegal, and must be performed again." It is said that the reason of these marriages was that, by performing them in that way, Schmidt could pocket the fees.

In plain view of anybody who might have chanced to look up at the third floor of the Corcoran building from the Treasury side of Fifteenth street, Washington, "Judge" John C. Fay, 67 years old a distinguished claims lawyer, sat in his office dead for six days before his body was discovered yesterday evening.

With more than $500,000 already saved to the government through competition on contracts for materials for battleship No. 39, Secretary Daniels announced last night that he had notified the Midvale, Carnegie, and Bethlehem steel companies that he woud not accept either of their recently submitted identical bids for heavy armor plate for this vessels unless they could show him cost of production figures to justify their prices.

Opening of the church parlors in the crowded portions of the large cities where young women can entertain young men callers, was urged in a resolution presented by Dr. H. G. Geberding, of Chicago, and adopted by the convention of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at the closing session at Toledo, O., yesterday. It was recommended that churches try this plan, already adopted in some cities, to check the immorality which is an outgrowth of the poor home.

Oyster season now open at Rammel Cafe.

SCHMIDT ADEPT IN ALL CRIMES

Has Had Experience in All Phases of Violation of Law.

MANY TO HIS CREDIT.

Charged With Murder, Counterfeiting, Illegal Practice of Medicine and Forgery.

New York, Sept. 17.—Hans Schmidt, who is in the Tombs charged with the murder of Anna Aumuller, stood revealed today, after Inspector Faurot's investigations resulted in the arrest of his associate, Ernest Muret, as a criminal jack-of-all trades.

Murderer, counterfeiter, fake medical practitioner, forger and impostor were terms written after his name in the police record, and the detectives who disclosed this pentateuch of crime insisted that Schmidt, far from being insane, in reality was the possessor of a master mind.

Alphonse G. Koelble, his lawyer, after a talk with him in the Toombs last night, said Schmidt admitted that he comitted the murder, or, as he termed it, "performed the sacrifice," that he was preparing to manufacture counterfeit $10 and $20 bills, and that he had another impersonation in which he posed as "Dr. Emil Moliere," in which capacity he was working on a medicine which "would reduce the number of children in the world."

Admissions by Schmidt also established the other charges, and as to the counterfeiting and illegal medical practice, Koelble said, Schmidt insisted that he was following out those lines under God-given commands.

FEATURES OF THE STATE FAIR.

Many Interesting And Exciting Performances This Year.

In addition to the great farm and industrial displays of every character in the amusement features of the State Fair at Richmond, the week of October 6th, will prove to be the best and highest class ever given since the organization of the association. The cream of the higher class attractions of this and other countries has been secured, and will be presented as free attractions on two large stages and an arena, in front of the grand stand, every afternoon and evening.

Among the most thrilling and sensational features will be the startling and exciting contests in auto-polo. This attraction will be a feature every day on the green in front of the grand stand. Polo with ponies is sensational enough, but with automobiles, there is no description which may be given. The contest must be seen to be enjoyed.

Another sensational display will be that to be given by Professor Hutchinson, the famous aeronaut of international fame. His act requires the use of a new balloon every day. A daring aeronaut arises to dizzy heights, and suddenly drops from the balloon which bursts into flames while the airman is descending by means of twelve parachutes. At night this is one of the most beautiful of displays.

The fireworks spectacle this year will surpass anything ever seen in the south. It closes with the battle of Santiago, in which twelve ships and a torpedo boat take part.

Entries for the agricultural departments will close on Saturday. Indications are that this feature of the fair will astonish the visitor by giving him an idea of the wonderful resources of the State of Virginia.

Reserved seats will be on sale at convenient points in the city on Thursday of this week.

KNOCKED DOWN BY A WAGON.

Colored Boy Has Head Cut on King Street Last Night.

A small colored boy named Phillip Richards, living at 306 Gibbon street, was struck by a wagon, in charge of Gus Constantinople, on the south side of King street, near St Asaph, last night and his head cut. The boy was taken to the Alexandria Hospital where he received attention.

Constantinople was cited to appear in the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of reckless driving.

According to the evidence, a north bound electric train had passed St. Asaph street when the boy started across the intersection. Constantinople was driving east at the time and, according to his statement, he called to the boy to look out. The latter in his statement denied that he received any such warning. It was shown that Constantinople kept on for some distance after his vehicle struck the boy.

The accused was fined $5 for reckless driving.

NAVY YARD FORCE.

Assistant Secretary of Navy Working on Plan for Benefit of Employes.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt is working on a plan that it is hoped will put an end to the periodical necessity of cutting down the force at the Washington Navy Yard when work becomes slack.

A committee of three, representing the men of the local yard, called on Assistant Secretary Roosevelt yesterday morning and consulted with him as to means that might be employed to obviate the necessity of reducing the force during the dull periods.

Another development of yesterday that served to put the navy yard situation in a more promising light was the receipt by the Navy Yard of information that a number of machinists could be used to advantage there. This intelligence was sent to the local navy yard yesterday morning, and it is probable that a number of men dismissed last week will find work at Norfolk.

During the conference between the Assistant Secretary and the representatives of the machinists several suggestions were made for throwing extra work in the way of the Washington Navy Yard during the dull times. These suggestions were discussed thoroughly, and Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday he would have the practicability of each investigated and would make his recommendations accordingly to Secretary Daniels.

REMINISCENT.

John W. Davis, father of one of Alexandria's prominent business men, Mr. Lucien Davis, of Cameron street, is on a visit to his son. His recollection of the hardships of the war were interesting and he produced a poisoned bullet that remained in his leg four months after being shot at Cannon's Landing. Mr. Davis was a member of Company A, Fourth Virginia Regiment, Capt. L. A. Davis; General Fitzhugh Lee was the commanding officer. Mr. Davis served four years with the Confederacy and bears his age well. He says if trouble happens with Mexico he is more than anxious to try it again.

CASE CONTINUED.

The case of John Arrington, charged with operating an ark for the sale of liquor on Sundays, was called in the Police Court this morning. The accused was represented by R. D. Brumback, and S. G. Brent, Comonwealth's Attorney, was present to conduct the prosecution. Upon the request of the latter the case was continued until 4 o'clock this afternoon, as a material witness was absent.

STAUNTON GREETS BRYAN.

Reception Given Secretary After His Chautauqua Lecture.

Staunton, Va., Sept. 17—Secretary of State Bryan spoke here last night at the Chautauqua and the large tent was crowded and the Secretary was received with enthusiasm.

After the speaking a reception was tendered Mr. Bryan, at the home of R. S. Turk, and a large number of persons met him. This is Mr. Bryan's first appearance here since 1896, when he spoke to an immense audience.

BURNING OF A BUFFALO HOTEL

Two Hundred and Fifty Inmates Make Thrilling Escapes.

HARD TO AROUSE.

Great Headway Gained in a Few Moments—Two Adjoining Buildings Destroyed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Six persons were seriously injured and many of the 250 guests had narrow escapes when the Hotel Brozel was swept by fire early today. The adjoining building occupied by the Eureka Coffee Company and the Dirnberg Popcorn Company, were destroyed. The loss on all three structures will reach $425,000.

The hotel corridors were quickly filled with smoke and flame, and policemen and employes of the house rushed through the hallways to arouse the guests. Doors were battered down, and frightened men, women and children were herded down the stairways and elevators to the lobby.

Within fifteen minutes after the first alarm of fire was given the top floor of the hotel was in flames, and it was with difficulty that guests, not aroused when the first cry of fire was raised, made their escape.

C. O. Surney, of Milwaukee, and E. J. Hope, of Jersey, City, N. J., after hearing the alarm ran through the corridors and awakened fifty guests on the fifth floor. These made their way to the street in safety. Nearly all of the guests lost all their belongings.

The cause of the fire, which originated in the Dirnberg building, has not yet been determined.

CHEMICAL ENGINES TESTED.

A large number of residents of Alexandria county witnessed the trial of the two chemical engines, which have been purchased for the recently organized fire department of the town of Potomac, at Del Ray last night. A large bonfire was built in front of Well's garage and the two engines made a run from their quarters and extinguished the blaze. A supper was served by the ladies of the town to raise funds for the support of the new department.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Danville Lawyer Arraigned on Serious Charge.

Danville, Va., Sept. 17.—After a private hearing which was held Monday afternoon in the court house before Police Justice C. A. Raines, Roy C. Coleman, a local barrister, was held for the grand jury on a charge of feloniously assaulting Mrs. Helen Schulz on Saturday night in his office, which is situated above Parker's Book Store. A bond of fifteen hundred dollars was required by the court of Coleman, and Mrs. Schulz was bound over for appearance as a witness before the December term of grand jury under the sum of one hundred dollars which security was given by a number of the girl's sympathizers.

The alleged offense was committed on Saturday night at about half past nine o'clock. Screams were heard issuing from the lawyer's office and employees in a store below sent out for a police officer who, upon hastening up the stairway, ran into Mrs. Schulz, who in a state of considerable fear, told the officer a tale which led him to arrest Coleman and take him to the court house where the woman swore to a warrant charging her alleged aggressor with felonious assault.

The complainant recently married an Austrian, who later deserted her. Mr. Coleman's friends claim that, in any event, the case against him is not so serious as appears upon the surface, when all the facts are brought out and that in reality, at the worst, he was laboring under an attack of alcoholic insanity. They say he has been drinking very freely lately of whiskey, laudanum and cocaine.

$20,000 A YEAR TO LIVE.

Governor Dunne's Household Outlay Revealed in Advertisement For A Butler.

Chicago, Sept 17—In the search of Governor Dunne, of Illinois, for a butler some comedy and the fact that his yearly household expenses are estimated at $20,000 developed here yesterday.

Harry Johnson, the Governor's "handy man," advertised: ..... WANTED— BUTLER. White, amiable sober, sincere; centre of State, family of 10; spends $20,000 yearly. Banquets, receptions, etc. Apply Tuesday morning at DE JONGHE'S HOTEL. Harry Johnson to arrive then.

When Johnson arrived he found Joseph Downey, who said he had managed the household of Governor Dix, of New York, and John Wren, as applicants for the position, also a squad of reporters. At sight of the latter the "handy man," exclaimed:

"Why, boys this will annoy the Governor. He simply detests this motor iety and he'll be highly indignant. I'll have to give it up."

Then Johnson fled, but two hours later he returned only to seek the seclusion of his room. Meanwhile, Downey and Wren had been answering questions put by the reporters as to their qualification, including the proper seating of guests.

"Twenty thousand a year," Downey observed, scanning the advertisement. "Goodness knows, that isn't enough for one good dinner! Why, I'd expect that much for myself."

"If Senator Lewis and Roger Sullivan were guests at the Governor's board, how would you seat them?" he was asked.

"According to rank, certainly, with Senaor Lewis at the Governor's right hand."

"How about Sullivan?"

"Oh, I'd seat him anywhere! When Charley Murphy used to call on Governor Dix I remember I always seated him at the foot of the table."

Johnson's further plans to obtain a butler could not be learned.

Killed in Auto Accident.

York, Pa., Sept. 17.—J. Frank Eline, an electrical contractor, president of the Electrical Commission of Baltimore, and instructor in Electricity at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmittsburg, Md., was killed and four of his companions were injured when their automobile collided with a passenger train on the Western Maryland railroad Saturday night, a few miles west of this city.

SULZER MUZZLED BY ATTORNEYS

"Thank God," he Says, The Bosses Are Hearing From the People.

ARE PLANNING COUP.

Impeached Governor Obeys Command, and is Swift to Hear and Slow to Speak.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17.—"Thank God the bosses are hearing from the people."

That was the only comment obtained today from William Sulzer, impeached Governor of the State of New York. On the eve of his formal arraignment before the high court, which will determine whether he is to continue to discharge the duties of the high office to which he was elected by the people of the State last November, Sulzer seemed outwardly confident.

He wanted to talk when he greeted the correspondents, but his attorneys fearful that he might disclose something which would afford "aid and comfort" to the enemy, have absolutely gagged him. He has been directed to let them do the talking and, convinced that this is the wise policy, he has obeyed their order.

Sulzer remained in his working office until long after daylight today, consulting the returns from yesterday's primaries.

The high court of impeachment meets tomorrow. With the exception of the impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson, Chief Executive of the nation, this will be the first real "recall" trial of an executive which has attracted the attention of the entire world.

On two persons, a woman and a man, Sulzer's fate seems to depend. The woman is his wife, who has been so pronounced a factor in his announced public defiance of boss rule. She, Sulzer's friends say, is responsible for his difficulty. It is claimed that the stock speculative accounts on which much of the present impeachment proceedings are predicted, were sponsored by Mrs. Sulzer.

It is stated with considerable emphasis that Mrs. Sulzer will tell her own story in her own way before the bar of the impeachment court.

The man who stands out as the great figure in the case, is Edgar M. Cullen, chief judge of the Court of Appeals. He is admitted to be a fearless jurist. He retires from the office he now holds December 31, next.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER.

About half past twelve o'clock this morning Chief Goods saw a strange man on West street, north of King, acting in a suspicious manner. He approached him and found that the stranger was near a pile of hay, and as several incendiary fires have been started in that section lately, the chief took him in custody. A box of matches was found in one of his pockets and a bottle of whisky in another. Upon reaching the station house he gave his name as Jesse Simmons, and said he was from Washington. The suspect was brought before the Police Court this morning, when he said he had been drinking and had never been arrested before. He further stated that he had no business in this city, but had come here on a visit. He was dismissed upon promising to leave the city immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Anderton and Miss Alice Anderton have returned to their home in Braddock after spending the summer travelling through the north.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN NAME.

Dioceses of Virginia and Southern Virginia Stand Together on Big Questions.

Richmond, Sept. 17.—When the question of changing the name of the denomination is brought before the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church early next month in New York, the delegations from the Diocese of Virginia will stand solidly against the measure. At both of the annual diocesan conventions during the past summer, the majority went on record as against any change in the church name, and so instructed the delegates.

Another matter on which the two dioceses will unite on the floor of the convention is that of purity standards. Memorials were ordered prepared by both bodies and sent to the general convention, and the delegates were instructed to urge this matter. Neither delegation is instructed on the method of choosing the presiding officer, which will be a rather live question.

The convention, which is held every three years, will begin on October 6.

The convention will be one of the most important ever held by the denomination. The question of changing the name of the church has been agitated for years, and at the last convention, held in Cincinnati, it came in for considerable discussion. Neither of the Virginia dioceses, however, favors any alteration in the name, and will vote solidly against such a resolution.

Another important matter which was carried over is the method of selecting a presiding officer. At the last convention action was taken providing that the head of the house of bishops be elected instead of being advanced by senority. This, if ratified by the present convention, will become a church law. The present head of the house of bishops is Bishop Tuttle, who will defend the system of seniority on the floor of the convention.

A measure that is of interest to the delegations is the reapportioning of the representation. The Diocese of Southern Virginia, with 16,000 communicants, now has the same number of delegates as some Western dioceses of 3,000 and 4,000. The Diocese of Virginia is in practicaly the same condition, and both will welcome a change. Both, too, are in favor of a plan to establish provinces, composed of clusters of dioceses, in the same manner that a diocese is formed of numbers of parishes.

While the general convention is in session, the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will hold a big meeting in New York. Large numbers of Richmonders and Virginians will attend the sessions of the two bodies.

The delegation from the Diocese of Virginia is as follows:

Rev. William Meade Clark, D. D., rector of St. James Church, Richmond; Rev. E. E. Goodwin, Ashland; Rev. William D .Smith, Winchester, and Rev. Angus Crawford, Episcopal Seminary, Alexandria, churchmen; Judge R. Carter Scott and P. H. Mayo, Richmond; Judge J. K. M. Norton, Alexandria, and Rosewell Page, Hanover county, laymen. No local men are represnted on the Southern Virginia delegation, as only two churches—Meade Memorial, South Richmond, and Church of the Good Shepherd, Forest Hill—are in that diocese.

Eugenic marriages have been indorsed by the conventions of both Virginia dioceses, and this question will come before the general convention. On the question of a new church canon to forbid the remarriage of divorced couples, even the innocent party, during the life of the other, which will be brought before the convention by the diocesan delegation from Southern Ohio, the Virginia delegations have no instructions, and the matter has never been acted in the annual conventions.

GIVES BLOOD TO FIANCEE.

Young Woman Recovering From Operation by Transfusion.

Richmond, Sept. 17.—Miss Nellie C. LaFon, of 103 West Cary street, is recovering at the Sheltering Arms Hospital from a serious operation, which was made possible by the transfusion of more than a pint of blood from the body of her fiance, E. L. Hickman, of 3827 Fifth Street, Fulton.

Last week Miss LaFon's condition became critical, and she was removed to the hospital. Examination by surgeons showed that an immediate operation was necessary, but owing to her weakened condition it was feared she could not stand the shock. It was decided that the transfusion of blood from the body of a healthy person into her veins was the only means of building up her weak constitution. Mr. Hickman, who enjoys robust health, unhesitatingly offered to submit to the operation, which was performed on Saturday by Dr. Shelton Horsley. It was successful in every way. The blood was permitted to flow from the arteries in Mr. Hickman's arm into those of Miss LaFon.

Mr. Hickman rapidly recovered from the loss of blood, and was able to leave the hospital in a short while. The condition of Miss LaFon is said to be satisfactory, and her complete recovery is predicted.

MEETING OF BANKERS.

Bryan and Burton Speak in Richmond Tomorrow.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 17.—On a special train arriving from Washington at 10:25 o'clock last night, 444 registered members of the American Institute of Banking came here to attend the eleventh annual convention of the association, which opens this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel. A large number had arrived before the special; delegations from Southern and Southwestern cities will arrive early this morning, and by the time the body is called to order there will be about 70 0registered delegates in attendance.

President Byron W. Moser, of St. Louis, said last night that the meeting promised to be one of the most interesting and successful the association has ever held. He called attention to the fact that the first chapter of the American Institute of Banking was organized in Richmond in -900. Many of the younger bankers who hold positions as cashiers, assistant cashiers and other positions in the Richmond banks were in attendance on the first meeting.

Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somehow there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert.

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many recoveries, one of which follows:—

1619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure.

"I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alterative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

WHITE SLAVE CASE.

Sam Franklin Will be Tried in Federal Court for Violating Law.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 17. — The white slave case against Sam Franklin, who is charged with inducing a white woman to go to the cavalry camp at Winchester, will come to trial in the Federal District Court today.

The woman in the case has been under detention by the government since the arrest of Franklin in Frederick county early in July. She was here last week to appear before the grand jury, but when the case was fixed for trial she was taken back to Washington to the house of detention in that city.

Recently there have been some developments of the government's side of the case which promise to be of an interesting character when these facts are brought out in the hearing of the evidence.

The case promises to be stubbornly contested by Franklin's lawyers, and it will be the first charge of the kind tried in the district court here.

SCHMIDT, A DEGENERATE AND AN IMPOSTER.

Further investigation of the life of Hans Schmidt, the self-confessed murderer of Anna Aumuller, show that the man is not only a degenerate at heart, without moral sense, but that he is also an imposter.

It has been pointed out that Schmidt was ordained a priest in Germany, but was suspended by the bishop four years ago for criminal offenses. Supposedly, his suspension obliterated him from the priesthood—at least the German church authorities thought that they had ousted the recreant clergyman. But Schmidt, without saying anything to parents or friends, came to this country, bringing with him forged papers indicating that he was still in good standing. Besides he had seals of the Bishop of Main, which he used on papers as he found it necessary to continue his forgeries.

While his credentials were never suspected, his associates in the clergy were suspicious of his education, although he cleverly hid from most of them the morbidly criminal side of his nature. He made his appearance in this country in Louisville, Ky., where he studied for a time, not attempting there to exercise any of the functions of a priest.

Schmidt came from Trenton, N. J., to New York, and despite the fact that he had just been banished from the diocese of Trenton, he was taken into the church of St. Boniface as a curate. There he met Anna Aumuller and there took up the double life he found quite easy in the teeming city.

The better to carry on his Mr. Hyde existence, Schmidt equipped himself with wigs and false whiskers and various other forms of disguise. It is believed that the flat he rented in Bradhurst avenue under the name of Hans Schmidt for the purpose of doing away with Anna Aumuller is not the only habitation he had outside the parish house where he lived as priest.

Strangely enough his forged credentials and his false representations were never questioned in his archdiocese. An inquiry directed to the bishop of Mainz, whose signature appeared on Schmidt's papers, would have brought forth the facts about him, as is shown by developments since his arrest for murder. In the absence of inquiry as to his previous career, Schmidt gave full play to his perverted bent in New York. He found the priesthood a veritable cloak of armor for his operations.

In the guise of a priest he went to St. Joseph's Church at 125th street and Morningside Avenue and, despite the fact that he had not been connected with any church for five months, he forged papers, got him a place as a curate—one of the four assistants to the pastor. In violation of his vows and rules of the Church, he celebrated Mass, performed marriages, baptized children, heard confessions and performed the other offices of a man of holy orders. He conducted himself in these activities before the pastors and congregations as a man of holiness and sanctity.

But in the night time, when the pastor was asleep, Schmidt sneaked out of the rectory of the church, divested of the trabiments of his ostensible calling, and prowled after women in the streets of Harlem. He deceived Anna Aumuller, a servant in the rectory of the Church of St. Boniface performed a mock marriage ceremony with her last February, and killed her when he was tired of her. In his confession to the police and the district attorney are revolting details of his life, showing that he possessed a dual personality.

Coroner Fineberg and the police are of the opinion that Schmidt's confession, while it encompassed all the details of the murder and the dismemberment of the remains, is not complete in covering the events previous to the night of September 2.

SALE OF AUTOS IS MARVELOUS.

Some surprise was evinced a few days ago when a dealer in automobiles in Alexandria inserted an advertisement to the effect that he had sold 30 automobiles in this city in five days' time. This looks like a big number of cars put out by one firm but is not at all unusual in towns of this size and that it will be exceeded is believed by all familiar with the growth of the industry.

An intersting article on Detroit's auto millionaries is given in a recent number of the Brooklyn Eagle.

Upward of $12,000,000 every week pours into Detroit to fill the gasoline coffers of the crop of new automobile millionaire manufacturers in the "City of the Strait." That is to say, Michigan has over 80 per cent. of the "devil wagon" manufacturing trade of the United States and Detroit has 65 per cent. of the 80.

As the total Michigan output is approximately $850,000,000 per annum—and is likely to reach $1,000,000,000 before 1915—Detroit's share runs into figures that make the mythical riches of swashbuckling Monte Cristo look trifling.

Whence comes this prodigious prosperity? What causes have combined to create a new Pittsburgh of the Middle West?

Surely there is some explanation.

It is an interesting story—rivals any of the tales of the "Thousand and One Nights." The curious part of this romance of magic money-conjuring is that, generally speaking, the supreme kings of this new industry are not financiers.

They are, instead, blacksmiths.

This wondrous anomally becomes intelligible when one stops only for a few moments to consider how the gasoline car has annually beaten its own marvelous record for growth. It has advanced in poularity with the speed of an aeroplane.

In ancient times—that is to say, about the year 1900—the men behind the various car models that have survied the tests of efficiency were mostly day laborers of one kind or another, but chiefly blacksmiths, leather-workers, railroad yardmen and others less skilled.

It requires a self-trained mechanic to take interest in the intricacies of the gasoline engine. Such a man was Henry Ford, whot today has an income of $1,000,000 a month. Ford was an itinerant threshing machine boss; before that, he was a farmer's lad; later an employe in an electric light factory. He possessed Yankee adaptability for mechanics. He worked nights on his "new-fangled motor," as he described it. The results were slow and crude, but he kept on the job.

Other men who are now at the front of the gigantic industry came up with factory soot upon their faces and foundry grime upon their overalls.

It was, you understand, a problem for a dreamer—a man willing to idle away his time.

The era of the capitalist in the gasoline field came much later. The blacksmiths were the founders of the new dynasty.

Letters received from Miss Naomi Simmons, superintendent of the Alexandria Hospital, who is now in Los Angeles, indicate that she is having a most delightful vacation, spending it with her family in that city. She expects to return to Alexandria about October 1st.

Mrs. Kate Waler Barnett, who has been spending some weeks at Ocean Grove, N. J., where she has held a number of important meetings, is expected in Alexandria at the end of this week for a few days' stay.

Mrs. Fannie Cook left today for New York to visit friends at Oswego and Randolph, New York. She will be absent for a week or ten days.

E. E. Downham, Representative of Acca Temple, at the Imperial Council, and Nobles Kemp Lambeth and O. P. Angelo, will go to Atlantic City Saturday to attend a ceremonial session of the Shrine to be given in that place.

Prof. Heinrich Maass, court painter and social leader of Berlin, shot and killed Count Chamberlain von Westernhagen, courtier-soldier and captain of the army reserve. A slap in the face led to the professor's act, which took place before the bar of a court of honor. There had been bad blood between the two for some time. In accordance with the code, they had agreed to submit their differences to a court of honor, which was to decide whether a duel was necessary. The two men had just completed giving to the court their testimony concerning their quarrel. Von Westernhagen, in a rage over some remarks made by Prof. Maass, struck his adversary in the face. The artist immediately drew a revolver and shot the soldier dead.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Thirteen-year-old George Bernier, who was holding a guy rope to a balloon while it was being inflated preparatory to an ascension at a local fair at Woodstock, Conn., yesterday afternoon was suddenly carried 500 feet in the air and then suddenly dropped to instant death in front of the grand stand, where 5,000 people were assembled. In order to secure a better hold on the guy rope during the inflation of the balloon the boy wound the rope about his wrist several times. When the balloonist, Harold Gates, of Newburyport, Mass., started his ascension the boy did not have time to unwind the rope.

The will of the late Timothy D Sullivan, which was made public in New York yesterday by his lawyers, leaves an estate valued at about $2,000,000. Since the will was made two of the beneficiaries have died—Helen Sullivan, his wife, and Mary Ann Summers, his sister. The entire estate now goes in equal shares to his brother, Patrick H. Sullivan; his half brother, Lawrence Mulligan; his half sister, Mrs. Margaret Hickey, and to the children of his decease sister, Mrs. Summers. Considerable surprise was manifested when it became known that no mention was made in the will of the representative's adopted daughter, who announced after the reading of the will that she would bring suit for her part of the estate.

Maury I. Diggs, former state architect and Attorney Charles B. Harris, of Sacramento, Cal., were found not guilty by a jury in the United States District Court yesterday of subornation and perjury in connection of the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases.

Sister Angels, known to hundreds of Washington girls and young women through the ten years of her service as superior of St. Cecelia's Academy on East Capitol street, died yesterday morning in the Mother's House St. Mary's Convent, Notre Dame, Ind., to which she had retired as a result of ill health which became serious two weeks ago.

The great strike which originated in Ireland spread to Scotland yesterday afternoon. Thousands of dock workers walked out. Stevedores are expected to join, and a marine tie up is imminent. The union of omnibus drivers of London voted to join the general strike which is sweeping the British Isles. The Irish strike reached Birmingham yesterday. Three thousand freight handlers are idle Much perishable freight is going to ruin in freight houses. All the farm hands in northern Ireland have joined the strike. The movement is becoming political. The situation is rapidly getting critical. Five hundred men employed in and about London went out yesterday.

Thunder storms of exceptional violence have swept over France, doing great damage. At Marseille the streets were transformed into torrents, hundreds of cellars were flooded, and quantities of merchandise on the quays were ruined or washed into the sea. All traffic in the city was suspended for a time. A boat containing a fishing party of six was capsized in the harbor and five persons were drowned. At St. Agreve in the department of Ardeche, and other places, houses were struck by lightning with some loss of life.

BATTLE IN THE STREETS.

Participants Discharge Pistols From Automobiles.

Gunmen said by the police to be members of rival gangs whose activity in the primary election in New York yesterday led to the renewal of an old feud, engaged in a revolver duel while seated in two automobiles standing on upper Broadway just as a nearby theatre matinee crowd swarmed into the street.

The attacking party of seven, after firing on three men in the other car half a block away, and being shot at in return, attempted to speed away, but were overtaken by a traffic policeman in a taxicab. Three men jumped from the car and escaped. Four, including the chauffeur, were arrested and locked up, charged with attempted felonious assault and violating the concealed weapons law. No attempt was made to capture the members of the besieged party.

The shooting which resulted in the arrest of four men was the second of the day. In the midafternoon the same two automobiles met on west 69th street and their occupants started to "shoot up" each other. Three men are said to have been injured, escaping before the arrival of the reserves.

HUERTA'S MESSAGE.

Celebration Independence Day Produces no Disorder.

Mexico City, Sept. 17.—Provisional President Victoriano Huerta delivered his semiannual message last night at the opening of the second session of the twenty-seventh Mexican congress. In it he promised to spare no efforts to bring about the unrestricted election of a president and vice president of the Mexican republic next month, declaring that it would constitute the greatest triumph of his career to turn over the office to its successor with the country at peace, as he hoped to do.

General Huerta said the strained diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States had caused the Mexican nation to suffer unmerited affliction, and had retarded the pacification of the country. Nevertheless he hoped for an early solution of the differences between the two nations.

The period of six months allowed American warships to remain in Mexican waters, by special permission of congress, will expire next month. In the opinion of the president's a renewal of such permission should not be granted.

The provisional president drew a distinction between the attitude of the government of the United States and that of the people of that nation, saying, "the tenseness of our diplomatic relations with the government of the United States or America, although luckily not with that people," had put Mexico into a state of apprehension.

In spite of the rumors, which dealt impartially with attacks upon Americans, an army uprising, and the assassination of the president, independence day came and went with nothing to mar the holiday spirit.

FATALLY WOUNDS RIVAL.

Victim Under Indictment Under Mann White Slave Act.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 17.—Roy Onks, a young married man of this city, shot and fatally wounded John Burnett, of Newport, Tenn., here early last night as Burnett alighted from a Southern Railway train in company with Onks' handsome young wife. The bullet entered Burnett's left breast just above the heart. He sank to the platform in the midst of an excited crowd. He was hurried in an automobile to St. Luke's Hospital. Both Onks and his wife were arrested and locked up. "I hope I have killed him," remarked Onks after he had been placed in jail.

Burnett, when approached by Onks, was a prisoner, in charge of B. U. Bolton, a special railway officer, being wanted here on a charge of carrying arms. Burnett and Onks' wife, it is alleged, eloped from Newport, Tenn., some weeks ago, Burnett deserting his own family. As a result Burnett had been indicted under the Mann Federal statute. The case was postponed in the Federal court at Greenville yesterday, and Burnett and Mrs. Onks, the latter having gone to Greenville as a witness in the case, rode together on the return trip. As they left the train Onks rushed upon them and shot Burnett Mrs. Onks saw him approaching with his revolver and screamed.

Mrs. Onks is the mother of a 10-month-old baby. Burnett is 22 years old.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emery, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.
